Introduction

AUTHORITY AND SCOPE—The Census of Business is required by law under 13 U.S.C., sections 131, 191, and 224. The 1963 census covered businesses in retail trade, wholesale trade, selected services, dental laboratories, and public warehousing operated in the United States, Guam, and the Virgin Islands. A separate 1963 Census of Business and Manufactures for Puerto Rico was conducted jointly with the Commonwealth Government. The figures in this volume include those issued previously in report series BC63-SS. For definitions, see appendix A.

KINDS OF BUSINESS COVERED—Of the 14 major groups of Services, defined in the Standard Industrial Classification (SIC) Manual[1] as establishments primarily engaged in rendering a wide variety of services to individuals and business establishments, seven are included in the 1963 Census of Business essentially in their entirety, as follows:

70. Hotels, rooming houses, camps, and other lodging places, except SIC industries 702, "Rooming and boarding houses," and 704, "Organization hotels and lodging houses, on membership basis."
72. Personal services.
73. Miscellaneous business services.
75. Automobile repair, automobile services, and garages.
76. Miscellaneous repair services.
78. Motion pictures.
79. Amusement and recreation services, except motion pictures. Symphony orchestras, ballet and opera companies, and similar services organized on a nonprofit basis are included. However, establishments in this group which are operated to provide recreation facilities for their own members and which are exempt from payment of Federal income tax under the provisions of Sec. 501 of the Internal Revenue Code are not included.

The following major groups of services defined in the SIC Manual are not included in the 1963 Census of Business:

80. Medical and other health services (except 8072 "Dental laboratories").
81. Legal services.
82. Educational services.
84. Museums, art galleries, and botanical and zoological gardens.
86. Nonprofit membership organizations.
88. Private households.
89. Miscellaneous services.

Data for administrative offices, warehouses, and other units which service and are auxiliary to service establishments within the same organizations are excluded from most tabulations but are presented in tables 27 to 29 of Chapter 9. See appendix A, Explanation of Terms, for definitions of the kind-of-business categories for which data are shown in this volume.

METHOD OF ENUMERATION—For purposes of coverage in the 1963 Census of Business, establishments were divided into two categories —those with some paid employment during 1963 (i.e., the "employer" universe) and those with no paid employment during 1963 (i.e., the "nonemployer" universe). The method of obtaining census information for these two groups is described below.

Enumeration of "Employers."—Information for establishments with some paid employment during 1963 was obtained by means of a mail canvass. Report forms were mailed to all business firms included in the active records of the Internal Revenue Service as subject to payment of Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA) taxes (i.e., employers of one or more persons) and which were classified in the records of the Social Security Administration (SSA) as wholly or partially engaged in retail and wholesale trade, and in manufacturing and mineral industries. Also included were those classified in major groups 70 (except 702 and 704), 72, 73, 75, 76, 78, and 79 in the services industries portion of the SIC Manual; in SIC industry 8072, dental laboratories; and in public warehousing, SIC major group 42 (except 421). In addition, report forms were mailed to all establishments which the SSA had not classified by kind of business prior to mailing of census report forms. Each establishment was mailed a report form appropriate to its SSA classification (for those cases for which SSA classification had not yet been established, a general purpose form was used), but its census classification was determined by replies to questions on the census report form.

Enumeration of "Nonemployers."—Information for this group of establishments was obtained from the 1963 Federal income tax returns of businesses other than those represented in the active FICA records of the Internal Revenue Service. Although made up of a large number of establishments, the nonem-ployer segment accounts for only about 10 percent of total service receipts.

Data were compiled from only one-half of the nonemployer tax returns and were multiplied by two to establish census totals. Only those establishments were included here which reported a receipts volume of $1,000 or more during 1963, or, having been in operation for less than the full year, reported receipts which would have reached a total $1,000 or more on an annual basis.

Based on a probability sample of all 1963 business income tax returns on Schedule C of Form 1040 and Form 1065, it is estimated that about 40,000 nonemployer establishments, of which about 22,000 were service establishments, were omitted from the census of business tabulations because of late filing. The effect of these omissions on the total receipts was negligible, accounting for about one-third of 1 percent of the total receipts. Studies of retailers indicate a probability that there is an additional minor omission amounting to less than 1 percent from the total service volume due to business operations not being completely identified in the tax returns.

COMPARISON OF THE 1958 CENSUS WITH THE 1963 CENSUS—In all major respects, the 1958 and 1963 censuses were conducted under similar conditions and procedures. Strict comparability of the data for the two censuses is limited by the following factors:

1. In 1958, Alaska and Hawaii had not yet been admitted as States. Consequently, in the publications of the 1958 census the totals for the United States included the then 48 States and the District of Columbia. In the 1963 census publications, the United States totals include the 50 States and the District of Columbia. Tables in the 1963 publications which show United States totals for 1958 have been adjusted to include Alaska and Hawaii.

2. The physical area of a number of urban places for which data are shown in the 1963 census is not the same as it was in the 1958 census because of annexations and other boundary changes which have occurred since 1958.

3. In the 1963 census, for the first time, nonemployer establishments which do not operate the entire year have been included if, during the period they operated, their receipts were at a rate which would have reached an annual total of $1,000 or more had they operated the entire year. This change increases the count of nonemployer establishments but has little effect on the total volume of receipts.

4. The number of active proprietors shown in this volume is based on crediting each sole proprietorship with one active proprietor and each partnership with two active proprietors if the establishment was in operation during November 1963. In the 1958 census each business was asked to report this number.

5. In 1963 a new method was used for assigning establishments to places. This system used a computer coding procedure based on an address reference file for the larger cities. This provided a more precise method for determining whether establishments were inside or outside of city boundaries than the previously used system which was based on respondent report of location. The new system avoids the difficulty resulting from the tendency of suburban respondents to identify their location as being in the adjacent city although actually located beyond that city's boundaries. In those cases where this procedure has resulted in significant differences, the 1958 data included in the 1963 reports have been corrected or, if that was not feasible, appropriate notations made advising of the lack of comparability.

CENSUS DISCLOSURE RULES—In accordance with Federal law governing census reports, any data which disclose the operations of an individual establishment or business organization are not published. However, the number of establishments in a kind of business is not considered a disclosure, so that this item may appear in instances where other items of information for the same kind of business or locality are withheld.

TYPES OF AREAS COVERED—The 1963 census reports provide selected services data grouped by kind of business for a variety of geographic areas including:

1. In combination for the 50 States of the United States; also each census geographic region and division. (See appendix B for definitions.)

2. Each Standard Metropolitan Statistical Area (SMSA). The SMSA's included in these volumes are those which were delineated by the Bureau of the Budget, Executive Office of the President, and listed in its report Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas, 1964.

3. Each county.

4. Each incorporated urban place (city, village, etc.) of 2,500 inhabitants or more. In addition, for the New England States data are provided for towns having 10,000 inhabitants or more, or an urban population of 2,500 or more; and in New Jersey and Pennsylvania, for townships with 10,000 inhabitants or more.

Most of the area detail for selected services is found in volume VII of the 1963 Census of Business.

Summary of Findings

The major findings of the Selected Services portion of the 1963 Census of Business are summarized below. The 1963 data are comparable, in general, with those of 1958. The few instances of noncomparability are noted under the heading "Comparison of the 1958 Census with the 1963 Census" in the Introduction and should be taken into consideration in making comparisons between the two censuses.

GENERAL SUMMARY

There were 1,061,673 separate places of business with total receipts of $44,586 million, within the scope of the 1963 Census of Business. The 1963 receipts were up 37 percent over the 1958 receipts of $32,506 million. The 504,356 establishments which had some paid employment during the census year, representing 47.5 percent of the total number, accounted for 92 percent of all receipts, an increase over the comparable percentages of 45.4 and 89.6, respectively, in 1958. These establishments paid out $12,192 million in wages and salaries during the year, 34.8 percent greater than the $9,045 million that was paid out in 1958. For the workweek ended nearest November 15, 1963, they had 3,261,541 employees on the payroll, and the total weekly payroll for that week amounted to $241 million. In addition, unincorporated businesses had 1,016,923 active proprietors.

The average receipts of establishments with payroll in the selected services was $81,338, nearly 13 times as great as the average for establishments without payroll. (See table A.)

The averages varied from a low of $39,295 for the "personal services" group to a high of $200,134 for the "miscellaneous business services" group, which was heavily weighted by one kind of business, "advertising agencies," which accounted for nearly 40 percent of the total receipts, and which had average receipts of more than $1 million. The establishments in the "miscellaneous business services" group, other than advertising agencies, had average receipts per establishment with payroll of only $129,926. The "motion pictures" group had average receipts of $182,238 per establishment. In this group the high average was largely due to the relatively small number of establishments engaged in production and distribution. The average receipts of all establishments without payroll was $6,393 with the "personal services" group showing the smallest average, $5,214.

Although accounting for about one-half of the establishments, the nonpayroll cases in the selected services covered by the census contributed only 8 percent of the total receipts. (See table B.) In some groups, however, establishments without payroll accounted for a considerably larger portion of total receipts. In the "miscellaneous repair services" group, 72 percent of the establishments had no payroll; these establishments accounted for nearly 24 percent of the total receipts of this group. In "radio, television repair," one of the kinds of business in this group, almost 80 percent of the establishments, accounting for 41 percent of the total receipts of this kind of business, had no payroll. In the "personal services" group, 59.5 percent of the self-services laundries, accounting for 45.4 percent of the receipts of this kind of business, had no payroll. In "barber shops," 65 percent of the establishments had no payroll, and these establishments accounted for more than 35 percent of the receipts of all barber shops. At the other extreme the number of establishments without payroll, classified as "motion picture theaters," "power laundries," and "linen supply," was less than 10 percent of the total.

While service trade establishments with payroll showed a significant gain in both number of establishments and receipts, service establishments without payroll, as a group, virtually remained static. Individual kinds of businesses showed large relative gains and losses both in number and receipts, but the largest changes were mainly limited to those kinds of business in which the nonemployer type of operation is typical. Of the kinds of business in which one expects to find this type of operation, "laundries, except power and self-service," "beauty shops, including combination beauty, barber," "business, management consulting services," "equipment rental," and "radio, television repair" all showed significant gains, while "shoe repair, shoeshine, hat cleaning shops," "pressing, alterations, garment repair, fur repair, storage," and "watch, clock, jewelry repair" showed substantial losses. (See table C.)

Per Capita Expenditures by Kind of Business— With the exception of the "miscellaneous business services" group, "motion picture production, distribution services," "linen supply," "industrial launderers," and "truck rental and leasing" most of the receipts of selected services within the scope of the business census can be considered as primarily consumer expenditures. The total receipts of those kinds of business within this scope of the census where receipts substantially represent expenditures by consumers amounted to $26 billion or a per capita expenditure for the United States of $139.12. This compared with per capita expenditures of $117.35 in 1958 for the same kinds of business and $97.37 in 1954, based on Census Bureau estimates of the population in each of these years. Per capita expenditures for most kinds of business in the selected services increased between 1958 and 1963, but there were wide variations in the percentage increases between the two years. Some activities, such as "auto repair, auto services, garages," "electric repair shops," and "amusetotal receipts of this kind of business, had no payroll. In the "personal services" group, 59.5 percent of the self-services laundries, accounting for 45.4 percent of the receipts of this kind of business, had no payroll. In "barber shops," 65 percent of the establishments had no payroll, and these establishments accounted for more than 35 percent of the receipts of all barber shops. At the other extreme the number of establishments without payroll, classified as "motion picture theaters," "power laundries," and "linen supply," was less than 10 percent of the total.

While service trade establishments with payroll showed a significant gain in both number of establishments and receipts, service establishments without payroll, as a group, virtually remained static. Individual kinds of businesses showed large relative gains and losses both in number and receipts, but the largest changes were mainly limited to those kinds of business in which the nonemployer type of operation is typical. Of the kinds of business in which one expects to find this type of operation, "laundries, except power and self-service," "beauty shops, including combination beauty, barber," "business, management consulting services," "equipment rental," and "radio, television repair" all showed significant gains, while "shoe repair, shoeshine, hat cleaning shops," "pressing, alterations, garment repair, fur repair, storage," and "watch, clock, jewelry repair" showed substantial losses. (See table C.)

Per Capita Expenditures by Kind of Business—With the exception of the "miscellaneous business services" group, "motion picture production, distribution services," "linen supply," "industrial launderers," and "truck rental and leasing" most of the receipts of selected services within the scope of the business census can be considered as primarily consumer expenditures. The total receipts of those kinds of business within this scope of the census where receipts substantially represent expenditures by consumers amounted to $26 billion or a per capita expenditure for the United States of $139.12. This compared with per capita expenditures of $117.35 in 1958 for the same kinds of business and $97.37 in 1954, based on Census Bureau estimates of the population in each of these years. Per capita expenditures for most kinds of business in the selected services increased between 1958 and 1963, but there were wide variations in the percentage increases between the two years. Some activities, such as "auto repair, auto services, garages," "electric repair shops," and "amusement, recreation services, except motion pictures," showed larger than average increases. Others, such as "barber shops," "cleaning and dyeing plants, except rug cleaning," and "photographic studios," showed less than average increases. "Pressing, alteration, garment repair," "shoe repair, shoeshine, hat cleaning shops," and "motion picture theaters, except drive-in" showed sizeable decreases. (See table D.)

In both 1963 and 1958 individuals spent more on "personal services" than on any of the other selected service groups included in the census, $43.58 and $38.79, respectively. The "hotels, motels" group and the "automotive repair" group accounted for the next largest proportion of the expenditure dollar, while "amusement and recreational services, except motion pictures" was the fourth largest group. The average amount spent in motion picture theaters during 1963 was only $5.63, down sharply from the $6.99 spent in 1958. All the decrease was in conventional motion picture theaters.

Per Capita Personal Services Expenditures by States—Per capita expenditures for "personal services" by State ranged from a high of $98.81 in the District of Columbia to a low of $25.63 in Mississippi. (See table E.) The average for the country as a whole was $43.58. In addition to the District of Columbia there were nine States with a higher per capita expenditure for "personal services" than the national average. The leading States, in order of their 1963 per capita expenditures, were Nevada, New York, Illinois, New Jersey, and California. These five States were also the highest in 1958 and 1954, but there has been some change in their relative standings in the latter two censuses.

Maine showed the largest proportionate increase between 1958 and 1963, 31.4 percent. This State showed only a small increase, 3.6 percent, between 1954 and 1958. The only State registering a decrease between 1958 and 1963 was Louisiana—down half of one percent. Delaware, Oklahoma, and Idaho showed quite small increases, 2.9 percent, 1.1 percent, and 0.8 percent, respectively.

Average Weekly Wages—The average weekly payroll (including both full workweek and part workweek employees) for all the selected services was $74 for the week ended nearest November 15, 1963, compared to $58 for the corresponding week in 1958, an increase of 27.6 percent. (See table F.) The highest wages, $192 per week, were paid to employees of the motion picture production and distribution industries. Other high compensations were paid to employees of advertising agencies, $168 per week; research, development and testing laboratories, $155 per week; theatrical production and services, $126 per week; and business, management, consulting services, $122 per week. It should be noted that with the exception of "theatrical production and services" the businesses paying the highest weekly salaries are not engaged in direct service to the consumer as are most of the other selected services. Kinds of business with the lowest average weekly wages were "motels, tourist courts," "auto laundries," and "motion picture theaters." Each had an average wage of $41. However, the usual pattern of employment in these kinds of business is either a high proportion of part-time workers or a high proportion of employees whose normal workweek is less than the usual 40 hours.

All kinds of business shown in this table showed increases in weekly compensation in 1963 over the corresponding week in 1958, and for many of them the increase was quite substantial. The largest increases were registered in "bowling establishments," "equipment rental," and "commercial sports." The smallest increase was in "auto laundries."

Payroll to Receipts Ratios—Almost 30 percent of the receipts of selected services establishments in 1963 were returned to the employees of these establishments as wages and salaries. (See table G.) This was a little less than the 31.1 percent returned in 1958. The comparable 1963 ratios for retail trade and for merchant wholesalers were 11.3 percent and 7.3 percent, respectively. It is characteristic of the selected services that payroll generally constitutes the most significant part of the business expense. There are two important exceptions, "advertising agencies" and "automobile, truck rentals, without drivers, and lease services," for which the ratios were only 10.1 percent and 13.6 percent, respectively. In both of these kinds of business, however, the equivalent of "cost of goods sold" in retail and wholesale trade is an important factor. The receipts of advertising agencies include media costs, and the charges for "automobile, truck rentals, without drivers, lease services" include an amount to amortize the cost of the cars and trucks which are rented or leased. In "services to dwellings, other buildings," "power laundries," and "research, development, and testing laboratories" payroll accounted for more than one-half of the total receipts, 56.8, 51.2, and 50.9 percent, respectively.

GEOGRAPHIC DISTRIBUTION OF SELECTED SERVICES

State Distribution—All 50 States and the District of Columbia showed sizeable increases in selected services receipts since 1958, varying from 68.8 percent in Nevada to 16.9 percent in Maine. (See table H.) The two new States, Hawaii and Alaska, were second and third respectively in rate of growth, while Arizona, which showed the greatest rate of growth between 1954 and 1958, was in fourth place.

New York State, which accounted for 20.2 percent of the United States total selected services receipts in 1963, was still in first place in size of receipts. New York State would have been in first place even without advertising agencies. However, if the receipts of advertising agencies are excluded from both the United States and New York totals, New York would account for only 16.5 percent of the U.S. total. California maintained its second position with 13.2 percent of the total receipts. The only change between 1958 and 1963 in the ranking of the top 10 States was Florida which went from ninth to eighth, replacing New Jersey which dropped to ninth. (See table I.)

County Distribution—Table J presents receipts for 1963 and 1958 for the 50 counties with the largest volume of selected services receipts in 1963. With three exceptions, San Mateo County in California, Honolulu County in Hawaii, and Washoe County in Nevada, the 50 counties with the largest volume of receipts were the same as in 1958. San Mateo County which was 70th in 1958 jumped to 40th; Honolulu County moved up from 54th to 49th; and Washoe County moved from 56th to 50th. At the top of the list, New York County in New York stayed in first place; Los Angeles County in California moved from third to second displacing Cook County in Illinois which dropped to third. Wayne County in Michigan and Philadelphia County in Pennsylvania remained fourth and fifth respectively.

Selected SMSA'S and Central Cities Distribution—All of the 25 largest standard metropolitan statistical areas (based on population) and their central cities showed significant increases in service trade receipts between 1958 and 1963. The percentage increase in each of the top 25 SMSA's was greater than the percentage increase in its corresponding central city. The Paterson–Clifton–Passaic, N.J., SMSA showed the greatest percentage increase, 73.7 percent, while the Cincinnati, Ohio–Ky.–Ind., SMSA had the smallest percentage increase, 22.0 percent, of the top 25 SMSA's. Dallas, Tex., with 52.3 percent increase recorded the largest percentage change in service receipts among the central cities of the top 25 SMSA's while Buffalo, N.Y., showed the smallest increase, 1.4 percent. (See table K.)

Table L shows, for the same SMSA's, changes between 1958 and 1963 in the SMSA's, in the central cities, and outside the central cities, for the "personal services" group and the "auto repair, auto services, garages" group. Generally, for the "personal services" group the increases in the SMSA's were less than for selected services as a whole, whereas the reverse was true for the auto repair group. However, both groups showed a wide variance between the increases in the central cities and those outside the central cities.

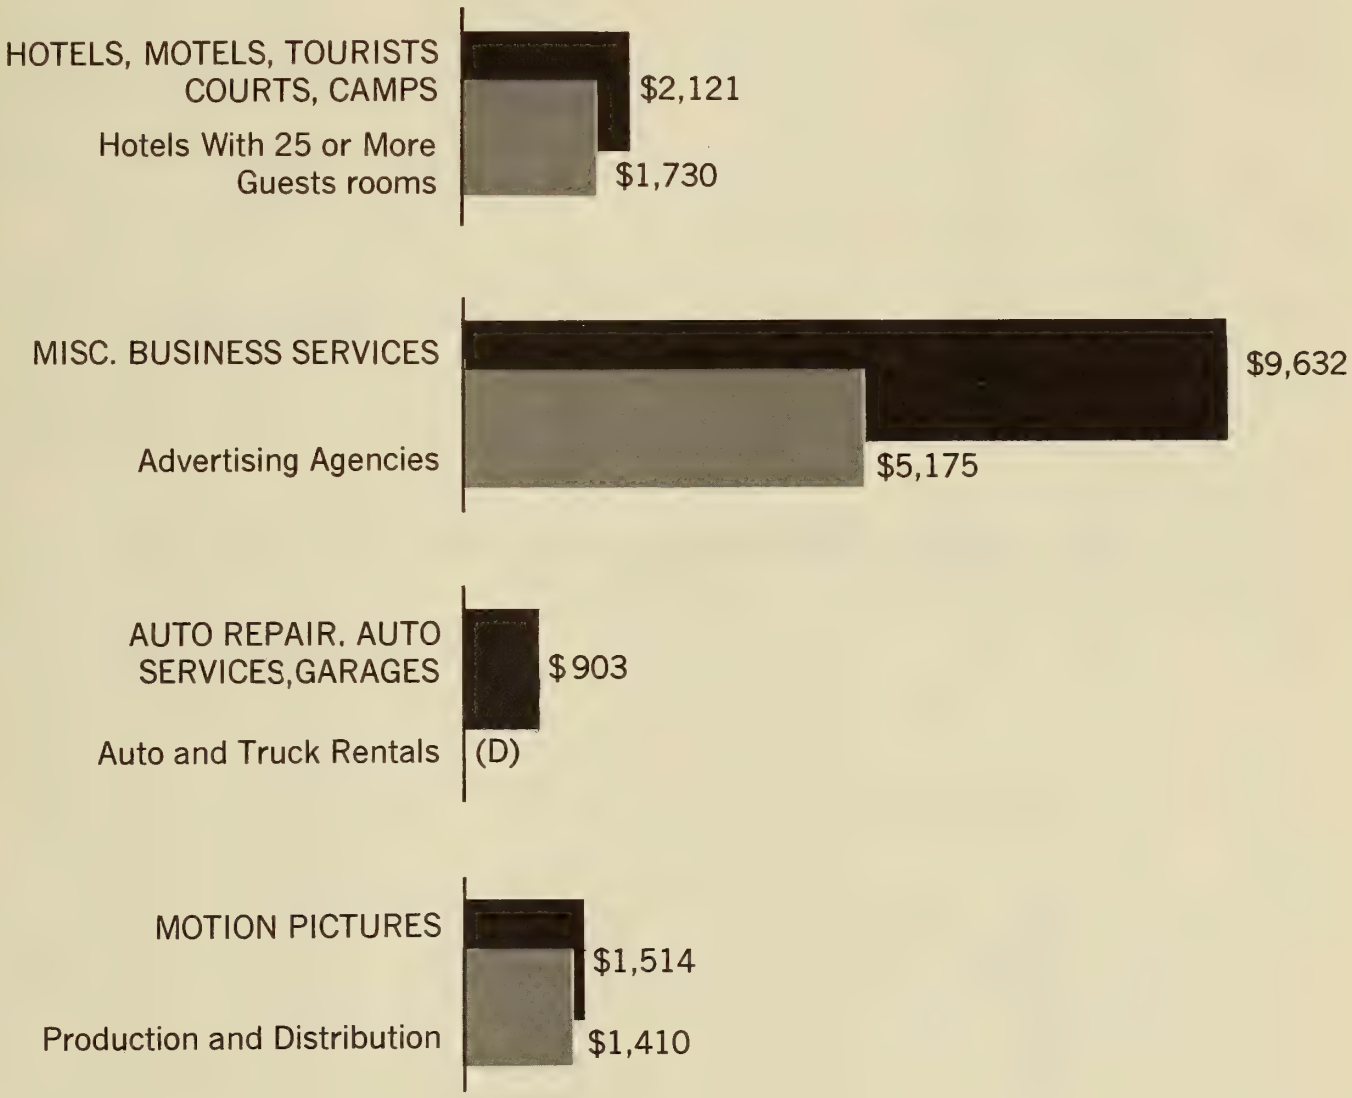
RECEIPTS SIZE (Tables in Chapter 2)

In the analysis of receipts size of establishments in the 1963 census, data on establishments which were operated for at least 10 months during the year (for census purposes considered to have been operated entire year) and which were in business at the end of the year were separated from the data for establishments not operated entire year. Also included in the category "operated entire year" are seasonal businesses which normally are not open the entire year. These statistics are based on the individual establishment or unit, rather than on the company or firm. In those kinds of business where there are a significant number of firms operating establishments at more than one location, such as hotels and motion picture theaters, receipts-size statistics based on a firm or company basis would vary considerably from those based on size of the individual establishment.

A little less than 1 percent of the selected service establishments had receipts of $500,000 or more during 1963, but these establishments accounted for 38.9 percent of the total service receipts. (See table M.) Nearly two-thirds of all the receipts were accounted for by 6.1 percent of the service establishments — those with receipts of $100,000 or more.



On the other hand nearly one-half of the establishments had receipts of less than $10,000 and accounted for only 4.5 percent of the total receipts. With the exception of the establishments grossing less than $2,000, all receipts-size groups with annual receipts of $15,000 or less decreased in number and receipts between 1958 and 1963, while the larger groups all showed increases. A similar pattern is observed in the percentage of total receipts represented by each group. Table N presents receipts-size distribution for selected kinds of service businesses. As observed above, there is a predominance of "small businesses" in the service trades (45 percent of all establishments had annual receipts of less than $10,000). There is an even greater predominance of small businesses in those services such as "barber and beauty shops," "shoe repair, shoeshine, hat repair shops," and "pressing, alteration, garment repair, fur repair, storage" where comparatively little investment in merchandise or equipment is required. Establishments with larger receipts are more typical of such kinds of business as "industrial launderers," "linen supply," "advertising," "motion picture production, distribution services," and "bowling establishments."

In the laundry area, 66.4 percent of the "industrial launderers," 62.7 percent of the "linen supply" establishments, and 35.3 percent of the "diaper service" establishments had annual receipts of $100,000 or more, and these establishments also accounted for the bulk of the total receipts of these kinds of business, 97.5 percent, 96.3 percent, and 87.1 percent, respectively. Only 34.7 percent of the establishments in the advertising group had receipts of $100,000 or more, but they accounted for 96.9 percent of the total receipts.

EMPLOYMENT SIZE (Tables in Chapter 3)

Although almost one-half of the service establishments included in the 1963 Census of Business had no paid employees on November 15, these establishments accounted for only 8.7 percent of the total receipts. (See table O.) There has been a small decrease, 1.8 percent, in the number of such establishments since 1958, but an increase of 9.9 percent in their receipts. The "no paid employees" group includes establishments which had paid employees at some time during the year but had none for the workweek ended nearest November 15, as well as the establishments which were nonemployers throughout the year. The kinds of business having the greatest number of establishments with 100 employees or more were "hotels," "power laundries," "linen supply" establishments, "advertising agencies," and "services to dwellings, other buildings." (See table P.)

[1]Estimated for 1963 and 1958 from data provided by establishments reporting this information.

SINGLE UNITS AND MULTIUNITS (Tables in Chapter 4)

For the selected services as a whole, multiunit operation is not a characteristic operation. In 1963, 94.3 percent of all service establishments were operated by companies which operated only a single establishment, reflecting little change from the 95.2 percent figures for 1958. (See table Q.) The receipts of the single unit companies accounted for 68.8 percent and 71.7 percent, respectively, of the total service receipts in the two census years. For the first time in a census of business, information is shown in these tables on number of firms as well as on number of establishments. Because of the method used by the Census Bureau in assigning a "firm size" to a company, there is some duplication in the number of firms shown in these tables at the kind of business level. A company's firm size is based on the number of establishments which it operated in the same "general" kind of business. The company is counted only once in the firm-size counts at that level of kind-of-business classification. However, if the company operates establishments in two or more detailed kind-of-business classifications within the same general kind of business, it will be counted as a "firm" in each such detailed kind of business. To the extent this occurs, the sum of the count of firms for individual kinds of business will exceed the count at the broader, i.e., same general kind of business, level. Moreover, each time a firm appears in the count of firms, it is included in the firm size reflecting the number of establishments the firm has in the general kind of business. For example, a firm operates both "drive-in motion picture theaters" and "motion picture theaters, except drive-in," which are in the same general kind of business. Such a firm,

LEGAL FORM OF ORGANIZATION Selected Services

Number and Receipts of Service Establishments, By Legal Form of Organization — United States: 1958 and 1963

1963 CENSUS OF BUSINESS, U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census

Table R presents the distribution of single unit and multiunit establishments and receipts for selected kinds of service businesses. Multiunit operation is most important in "auto parking" where 52.3 percent of the establishments, accounting for 51.6 percent of the receipts, were operated by multiunit companies. Other kinds of business in which multiunit operations were important were "motion picture theaters, except drive-in" with 50.2 percent of the establishments and 68.4 percent of the receipts; "drive-in motion picture theaters" with 46.1 percent of the establishments and 51.8 percent of the receipts; "linen supply," 36.5 percent of the establishments and 54.9 percent of the receipts; and "industrial launderers," 34.7 percent of the establishments and 51.1 percent of the receipts. For "motion picture production, distribution, services," only 15.7 percent of the establishments were operated by multiunit companies, but they accounted for 74.7 percent of the total receipts of this industry. Similarly, in the "advertising industry," multiunit firms operated only 10 percent of the establishments but had 56.6 percent of the receipts.

LEGAL FORM OF ORGANIZATION (Tables in Chapter 5)

Individual proprietorships accounted for 77.6 percent of all selected service establishments in 1963, and partnerships accounted for another 9.1 percent, both showing decreases from the corresponding proportions of 80.6 percent and 10 percent in 1958. Corporations had 13 percent of the service establishments in 1963 compared to 9.2 percent in 1958, and there was an insignificant proportion of other legal forms (0.3 percent) such as cooperative associations, estates, receiverships, joint ventures, etc. (See table S.) In terms of volume of receipts the pattern was different. Individual proprietorships accounted for only 26.7 percent of the total service receipts, while corporations had 63.6 percent of the receipts.

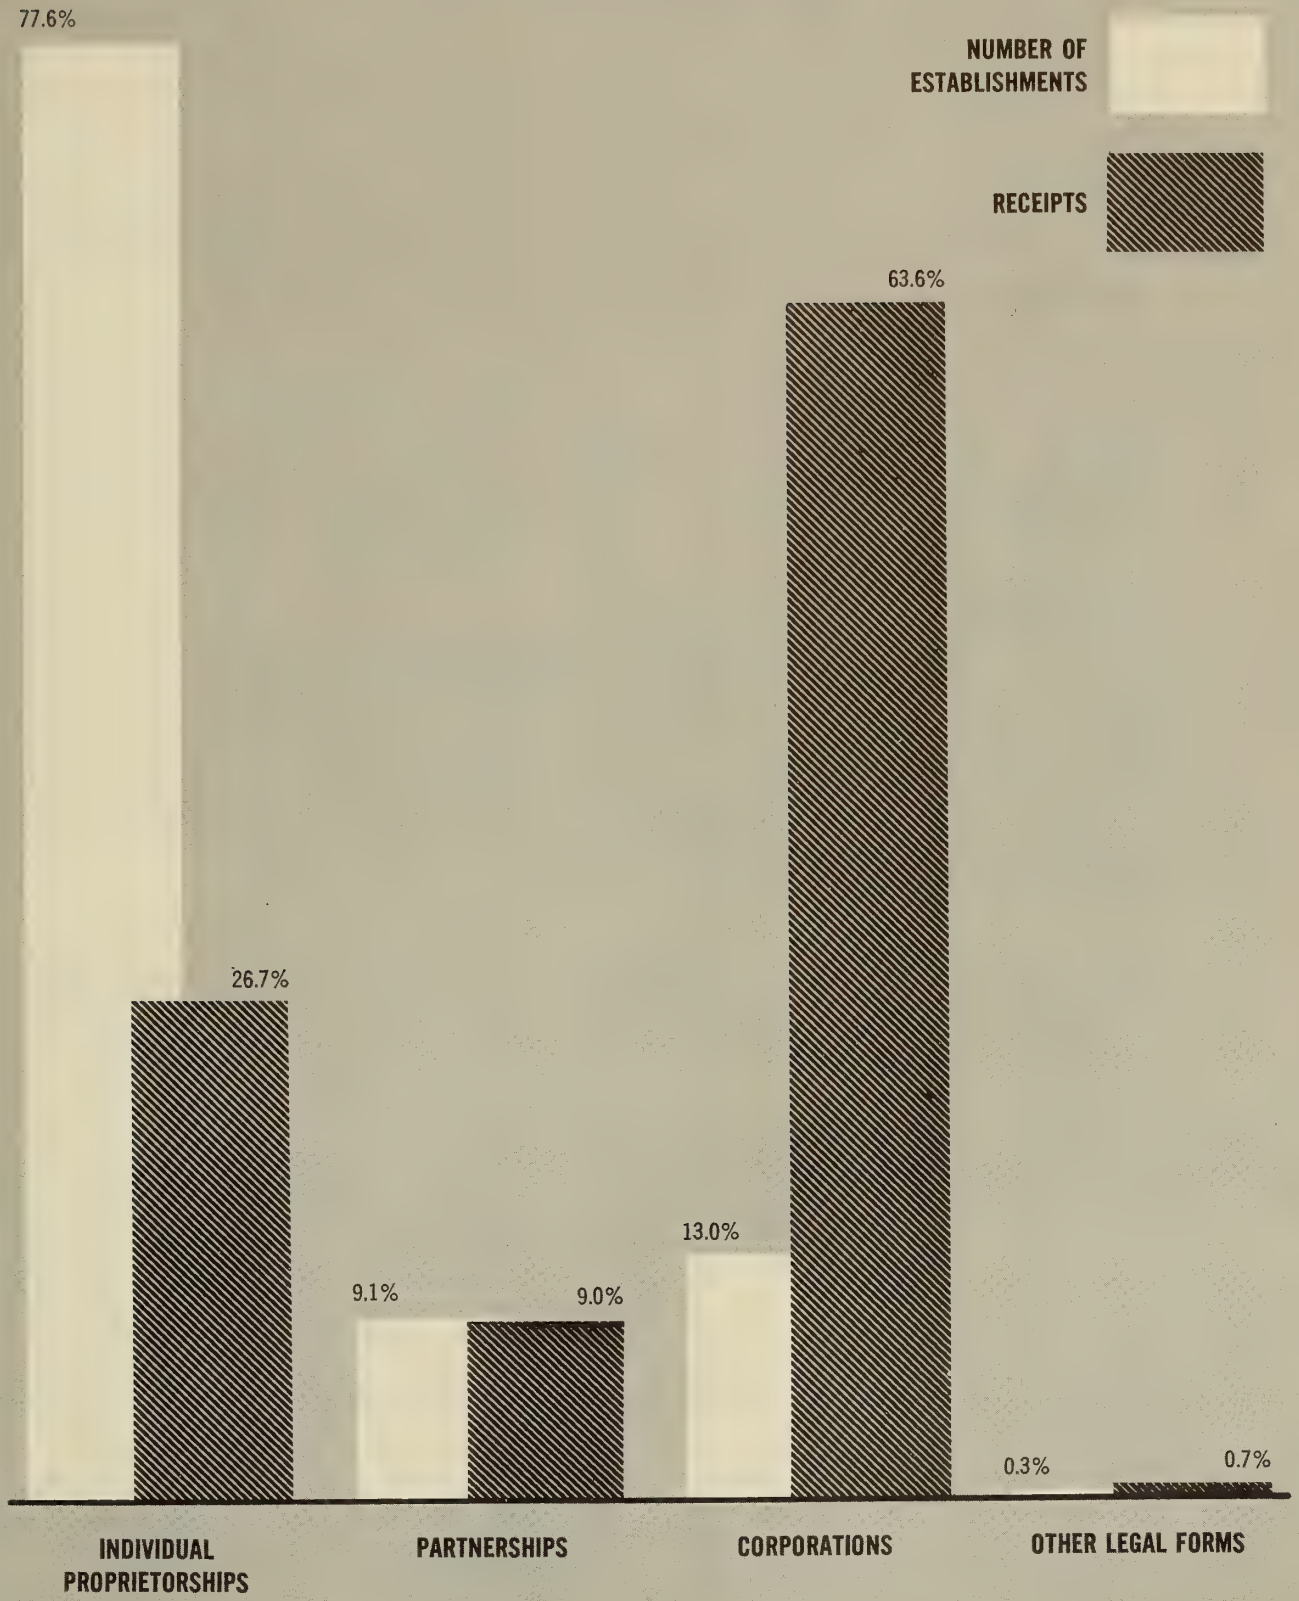
[2]Includes cooperatives, estates, receiverships, joint ventures, etc.

Contrary to the general pattern, individual proprietorships accounted for the greatest portion of the receipts in some service kinds of business. (See table T.) In "barber shops," they accounted for 86.3 percent of the total receipts; in "shoe repair, shoeshine, hat cleaning shops," 78.4 percent; in "watch, clock, jewelry repair," 74.5 percent; and in "laundries, except power and self-service," 73.7 percent. The corporate form of organization dominated the "motion picture production, distribution, services" with 95.1 percent of receipts; "linen supply" and "industrial launderers" in which corporations accounted for 88.4 and 87.8 percent, respectively; and the "miscellaneous business services" group, 83.8 percent.



HOTELS, MOTOR HOTELS, MOTELS, AND TOURIST COURTS (Tables in Chapter 6)

For the first time in a census of business, a category "motor hotels," based on self-designation by the operators (see Kind of Business Definitions, Appendix A), is shown separately in these tables. A comparison of sources of receipts of the larger hotels, motor hotels, and motels, as shown in table U, illustrates the differences in their operations. Receipts from meals and alcoholic beverages in 1963 were more than 29 percent in motor hotels and almost 41 percent in large hotels; whereas, in motels, less than 16 percent of the total receipts were from this source. It should be noted that the receipts from meals and alcoholic beverages shown in this table are only those of the restaurants and bars owned and operated by the hotel, motel, or motor hotel at the establishment location. The receipts from restaurants and bars operated in the hotels, motels, and motor hotels as concessions are not included in the selected services figures but are counted as separate establishments in the retail trade portion of the 1963 Census of Business.

With respect to percent of occupancy findings for 1963 in hotels with 25 or more guest rooms, more than 60 percent of receipts came from those reporting less than 70 percent occupancy, a large increase over the corresponding percentage of 52.9 in 1958. (See table V.) Hotels with 60 to 69 percent of occupancy accounted for 27.4 percent of all hotel receipts in 1963, and this group also had the largest average receipts per hotel of the six groups shown in the table. In 1958 the 70 to 79 percent occupancy group had the most receipts and the highest average. The figures for 1958 do not include data for Alaska and Hawaii. However, total 1958 receipts of the hotels in these two States amounted to slightly more than 1 percent of the receipts for all hotels, and their exclusion from the 1958 figures can have very little effect on the percent changes between 1958 and 1963.

A comparison of the periods in which hotels, motels, and motor hotels commenced operating, as shown in table W, shows that the great majority of hotels with payroll were in business before 1942. On the other hand, the largest number of motels was recorded from 1949 to 1954, and the peak for motor hotels was reached in the years 1959 to 1963. In all types of hotels (large, small, and seasonal) the older establishments accounted for the largest portion of the total 1963 hotel receipts; whereas, in the case of motels and motor hotels the newer ones showed the highest percentage of total receipts.

POWER LAUNDRIES, CLEANING PLANTS, AND RELATED SERVICES (Tables in Chapter 7)

With the exception of "power laundries," receipts of each of the kinds of business for which data are presented in this chapter showed substantial increases from 1958 to 1963. (See table X.) "Cleaning, dyeing plants" with payroll, had 1963 receipts of $1,410.6 million, 11.5 percent over 1958; while "power laundries" with payroll, with 1963 receipts of $1,040.2 million, showed only a 1.8 percent increase over 1958. Most self-service laundry establishments, 14,194 out of 23,862, were "nonemployer" cases. The establishments with payroll in this kind of business showed a 137.3 percent increase from 1958 to 1963. Establishments primarily engaged in "self-service drycleaning," accounting for receipts of $51.9 million, are shown separately in 1963. Self-service drycleaning machines were not commercially available at the time of the 1958 census.

Less than 10 percent of the receipts of cleaning plants in 1963 were from laundry work (mostly family and bachelor work) with the bulk of their receipts, 86.2 percent, from cleaning work. (See table Y.) This pattern differed very little from that of 1958. "Power laundries" were somewhat more diversified in the type of work performed than were cleaning plants. In 1963, 67 percent of the laundries' receipts were from laundry work, of which a little more than two-thirds were from family and bachelor work, and the remainder from commercial work. Cleaning work accounted for 17.7 percent of the receipts and 8.9 percent was from self-service laundry work.

For cleaning plants, 16.1 percent of their family and bachelor laundry work and 20.4 percent of their cleaning work was delivered by truck directly to the customers' homes or places of business. This is a drastic reduction compared with 1958, when the proportions were 33.1 percent and 35.4 percent. (See table Z.) "Power laundries" delivered a greater proportion of their family and bachelor laundry work and cleaning work directly to the customers' homes and places of business than did cleaning plants, 36.7 percent and 47.7 percent, respectively, but here again there was a large decrease since 1958 when the percentages were 50.9 and 55.7. In both cleaning plants and "power laundries" more customers were picking up their laundry and cleaning from branch stores and plant offices. The proportions of wholesale family and bachelor laundry work and cleaning work done by cleaning plants and power laundries showed relatively little change between 1958 and 1963.

MOTION PICTURES (Tables in Chapter 8)

Direct receipts of motion picture and television tape producers in 1963 amounted to $405,062,000, an increase of 60.2 percent over the producers' direct receipts of $252,826,000 in 1958. (See table AB.) All of the increase was in the production of motion pictures and tapes for television, from $96,532,000 in 1958 to $270,602,000 in 1963, up 180 percent, whereas, the direct receipts of motion pictures production other than for television actually dropped 14 percent, $156,294,000 in 1958 to $134,460,000 in 1963. These receipts include receipts from outright sales of films, film rentals received directly from exhibitors, and miscellaneous receipts. Earnings from films or television tapes which are distributed by film exchanges, whether independent or producer-owned, have not been included with the receipts of the producers. Such receipts have been included under "film exchanges." Only those producers' receipts from studio rental, laboratory work, and loan of players which were not netted against the producers' expenses for these items have been included in receipts.

Receipts from motion picture and television tape distribution in 1963 amounted to $1,054,260,000, an increase of 31.4 percent over the distributors' receipts of $802,240,000 in 1958. To avoid duplication, this item does not include the reporting company's share of receipts from film rentals collected by others. Although the bulk of the receipts originated in film exchanges other than for television, the proportion of the receipts from exchanges for motion picture film and tape for television has significantly increased since 1958. In that year, 11.4 percent of the distributors' receipts were from that source, whereas, in 1963 the percentage was 21.7 percent of the total. Receipts from services allied to motion picture distribution were down 12.7 percent since 1958, whereas, receipts from services allied to motion picture production were up 16.2 percent over the same period.

MOTION PICTURES Selected Services

1963 CENSUS OF BUSINESS, U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of the Census

The sharp downward trend in the number of regular motion picture theaters that has been evident since the 1948 Census of Business continued. In 1963 there were 9,150 regular motion picture theaters, down 25.6 percent from the 12,291 in 1958. Receipts of regular motion picture theaters were also down 13.9 percent from 1958 ($938,164,000 in 1958 compared with $807,596,000 in 1963). On the other hand, drive-in motion picture theaters, although down 13.8 percent in number, showed an increase of 9.2 percent in receipts between the 2 years.

The average receipts of motion picture theaters, both regular and drive-in, increased from 1958 to 1963. (See table AD.) For regular theaters, although the average total receipts and receipts from admissions increased, the average number of paid admissions and the average capacity both showed a decrease between 1958 and 1963, indicating that there had been some decrease in the larger theaters and an increase in the average price per admission in those theaters that were active in 1963. For drive-ins, the total receipts and the receipts from admissions both showed sharp increases between 1958 and 1963, 17.2 percent and 20.6 percent, respectively, and there was a small increase in the car capacities of the drive-ins.

Table AE shows that the average price per admission in regular motion picture theaters increased sharply between 1958 and 1963, from 63 cents to 86 cents, a jump of 36.5 percent. In three States and the District of Columbia, the average admission price was a dollar or more, $1.09 in the District of Columbia, $1.07 in New York, $1.01 in Massachusetts, and $1.00 in Rhode Island. South Carolina, Mississippi, and Arkansas had the lowest average admission price, 59 cents. Information on average admission prices for drive-in theaters is not available, since it is the practice of many drive-in theaters to charge admission either by the car or by the individual.

For the first time information is presented on the period in which those theaters active at the end of 1963 commenced operations. (See table AF.) Almost two-thirds of the regular motion picture theaters operating in 1963 commenced operations prior to 1942. Only 4.9 percent of them began operating between 1955 and 1958, but there has been a slight upsurge in building between 1959 and 1963, when 8.2 percent of the regular theaters commenced operations. One-half of the drive-in theaters active in 1963 commenced operations in the period 1949 to 1954; another 17.4 percent started between 1955 and 1958, and 11 percent began operations in the period 1959 to 1963.

Volume VII has been prepared primarily by assembling and binding the tabular portions of previously issued subject reports together with chapters covering additional phases of selected services which are not issued in report form. This plan was adopted to reduce publication cost and to expedite issuing the data. The corrections appearing below represent revisions noted after the individual subject reports were issued and should be taken into consideration in using volume VII and the subject reports from which it was assembled.
